KEYNOTE PRESENTATION

Parents are complaining about a “problem teacher.” Billy and Tommy use foul language in school and their parents are not concerned. Principal Joe purchases a curriculum that the teachers DO NOT WANT. When there is a difference in opinions and values, there will always be the potential for conflict. Unfortunately, conflict normally results in people sinning against each other, which results in broken relationships. There is hope for conflicted situations. Come and hear how broken relationships can be healed by being ROOTED AND GROWING IN THE RECONCILIATION OF CHRIST.

PRESENTER

Pastor Mark Rockenbach is currently serving as the Church Worker Health Executive for the Nebraska District LCMS. He received his B.A. from Concordia College, Seward, Nebraska; M.Div. from Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri; and M.A. in counseling from Doane College, Lincoln, Nebraska. He is currently working on his Ph.D. in general psychology through Capella University. Pastor Rockenbach is a licensed mental health practitioner (LMHP) and also a trained reconciler. He has a passion for the ministry of reconciliation and for helping God's children live together in Christ's love.
